ROMAN and other CEMENTS.—Manufactured by J. M. BLASHFIELD, successor to the late Messrs. PARKER and WYATT, who, in 1796, first introduced PARKER'S ROMAN CEMENT, which has now for upwards of fifty years been extensively used in most of the public and private buildings and other works in this country, and throughout the world. Among the more recent works in this country where it has been largely employed since the present proprietor became the manufacturer, may be named the Lyceum and St. James's Theatres, the Carlton, Reform, and Army and Navy Club Houses, the London Docks, the Thames Tunnel, the Winter Palace at St. Petersburgh, the British Museum, the Yarborough Hotel, Minster, the Royal Exchange, the Nelson Column, and the New Houses of Parliament. When properly applied, it is the most perfect and economical Cement for hydraulic works known; and, when used with stucco, it will resist the action of heat and frost, and preserve walls from damp. As a mortar for brickwork, it surpasses any other material, and is NEARLY AS CHEAP FOR SUCH WORK AS MORTAR MADE OF ORDINARY LIME. Terras, an Hydraulic Lime, for setting masonry where slow indurations is important, so as to allow for the settlement of work. A Cement of extraordinary tenacity and hydraulic properties, and with which the most successful works in Lancashire have been executed. Blashfield's Patent Mastic, or Oil Cement, which may be painted immediately after use. Also Mariner's Cement, Keene's Cements, Portland Cement, Genuine Plaster of Paris, prepared from the purest Gypsum and of any degree of fineness required. Chimney-pots, Tiles, Tiles, &c.—Manufactory, Paddington, Middlesex, Poplar, Lea-bridge, Commercial-road, Lambeth, and Paddington-basin. Counting house, 3, New London-street, Mark-lane, City.
